Gulliver's Doggie Daycare

Gulliver's Corner

Hi Everyone! Things are just winding down here at Daycare after Thanksgiving. My friends have all been picked up by their families. I'm a little sad that they have gone, but I'm sure I will see a lot of them again soon, reservations are rolling in for the next holiday vacation week. I had a lot of fun in the big yard watching all the little dogs bustling about over in their yard. I was delighted to meet Banna, who is a Brussels Griffon. For those of you who are unfamiliar with the breed, think Ewok. Banna is very sweet and we had a nice chat at the fence, she seemed to be enjoying her first boarding visit. In the big yard I was joined by a big white Fuzzy guy named Pierre. He is a Great Pyreneese. It was also his first time away from home too. He was very interested in meeting all of us, and he was very polite. Max Wynkoop came and played too. Even though he is getting older, he's still plenty busy out in the yards. I hope I see them all back in a few weeks. By then we may be able to play snow tag!
